ARE FIGHTING IN TAMAULIPAS

Magonistas and Maderistas in Bloody Clash and Grant No Quarter.

CITY OF MEXICO, September 19.—The Indians have risen in rebellion in the State of Chiapas and a battle was fought yesterday between the federal troops stationed there and the rebels, in which many were killed.

The war department, upon receiving advices from the authorities in Chiapas and the commandant of the troops, has taken steps to send a strong reinforcement to the scene of disturbance.

No quarter was granted by either side and the citizens of Carmo are fleeing from Tamaulipas across the border to Texas. Terror prevails all along the border and a number of skirmishes are reported.

REYNOSA, Mexico, September 19.—A skirmish is in progress near San Fordyce between the Magonistas and federal troops.

PRATT THINKS NO DANGER TO FEAR

Dr. Pratt, the head of the Territorial Board of Health, is not very much exercised about the appearance of amoebic dysentery. When seen yesterday afternoon he said that there was not much fear of it spreading, as far as he could see, but, of course, the board would take all sorts of precautions to guard against any possible increase in the number of cases, and every effort will be made to stamp out altogether the few cases that have made their appearance here.

Thinking it possible that the doctors did not know that the last legislature made this a reportable disease, Dr. Pratt has had the following circular letter sent to them:

"Amoebic dysentery is a reportable disease under the act relating to contagious and infectious diseases (Act 125, Session Laws 1911).

"If you have had any cases, or have any at the present time, or have any in the future, will you please report them promptly on the regular form of report of contagious diseases.

"We have had some cases of amoebic dysentery in the Territory, and it is very desirable that we have exact data of all cases.

"Hoping you will assist us by reporting these cases promptly so that we may have reliable data of this disease."

Dr. Pratt said that he did not imagine there were many cases in the Territory, and until he had received the reports of the doctors he could not say what would be done. But he reiterated his assurance that all possible would be done to safeguard the health of the community by preventive measures, and every effort would be made to stamp out the disease wherever it made its appearance.

THIRTY-FIVE GAMBLERS CAUGHT BY THE POLICE

Thirty-five Chinese gamblers were nabbed last night by Chief McDuffie, Sergeant Kellett and the special staff in a house on Maunakea street, near Hotel. The game in progress was pai-kau, but by some mysterious means the gamblers got a signal as the officers were rushing upstairs and had already commenced to scatter. The chief, who was the first in, saw a man reaching for a dollar on the table and secured the coin first, that being the only evidence of "something of value" which the officers got, besides the gambling outfit.

STORM KILLS TWO.

WILD SCRAMBLE AT THE SCHOOLS

Parents Almost Come to Blows—Many Children Have to Be Turned Away.

School reopened yesterday and everywhere, according to reports received, there was a lot of disappointment among parents owing to their failure to have their children enrolled for the ensuing term. Judging by the reports received by Superintendent Pope there is a general disposition to get the children into the schools, and it would seem were the accommodations in every school much larger it would be a source of satisfaction to hundreds.

Stories are told of the parents almost fighting among themselves in their endeavors to be among the first to get to the principal in order that their children would be enrolled. Japanese and Chinese showed a keen desire to have their children on the books.

With this condition of affairs it is only natural that the number of pupils on the rolls this term is much greater than it was last term, and notwithstanding that the schoolhouses had been enlarged during the vacation, the same story of inability to accommodate all those that applied had to be told at every school, as far as is known.

The total enrollment yesterday at the Normal School was 156, with 334 in the training department. There are fifty-three freshmen, thirty-two sophomores, thirty-two juniors and thirty-nine seniors. The freshman class is made up of pupils from different parts of the Territory. Superintendent Pope said that he believed that every island was represented.

The senior class is composed of pupils from other schools and the number this term makes a good showing. There are several new teachers in the Normal School to take the places of those who left last year. Mr. Hoyt, from Vermont, has taken the place of Mr. Raymond in the training department and some of the scientific branches. Raymond has become supervising principal for Lahaina district and Molokai.

The Royal School reports a big enrollment. The addition of two rooms has enabled the principal to cope with the rush of pupils to a large extent, but all those who applied for admission could not be accepted. With this additional accommodation nearly one hundred more pupils were placed on the rolls.

The Central Grammar School has an increased membership of about fifty to report. Kaahumanu, too, has an additional room and there has been a large increase. Watertown will be unable to accommodate all who desire admission, some of the children having to come to Honolulu for instruction. This will be remedied a little when the new schoolhouse is built. This structure will be a cheap affair, but it will serve its purpose for a time. It will be almost an open air building, as the sides will practically all open out, so that during the day there will be a good current of air running right through. The work of putting up the new schoolhouse will be rushed.

Kaunani School had an exciting time yesterday morning. Mrs. Frazer, the principal, was fairly besieged by anxious parents who wanted their children among the limited number that they knew the school could accommodate. At an early hour mothers and fathers with their offspring arrived. Mrs. Frazer placed herself in the office behind a table, for she felt certain that once the parents got in they would not leave until she had promised to enroll their children.

There was an exciting scene while the enrollment was going on. Of course it was a case of first come, first served, and they knew it, so they hustled and jostled one another, and the strongest won. At one time it looked as though there was going to be some fighting among the parents in the wild rush for first positions. Talking to Superintendent Pope about the matter, Mrs. Frazer said that she had an even hundred new pupils in the school, but she was forced to send away sixty-one others. They were now using the assembly room as a classroom, but had to sit on the floor, as there were no desks. The children who use this room were shown the desks in course of construction and they went back to the floors perfectly satisfied that they will have the necessary accommodations soon. The children were delighted at the prospect of getting the furniture.

Mrs. Frazer did not know where the rejected ones had gone. One Japanese tried to make her say that she would receive his boy at Christmas, but she had declined to promise even this. Another Japanese had a typewritten letter in which he had great faith. Although this applicant believed fully that the presentation of a typewritten letter was the open sesame of all things, he had to be disappointed. Another Chinese furniture maker promised that he would provide a desk chair for his child, if accommodation could be found for it. This offer had to be rejected. There were plenty, said Mrs. Frazer, who would have supplied the necessary seating accommodation if she had promised. (Continued on Page Eight.)

PROHIBITION REPEALED BY A SMALL MAJORITY

AUGUSTA, Maine, September 18.—Official returns made of the vote at the recent election show that prohibition has been repealed by a majority of twenty-six votes. While this vote does not immediately repeal the prohibition law as it stands it means that the law will be so amended at the next session of the legislature that saloons will be able to take the place of the blind pigs which have flourished for a generation.

ROAD WORK ON NUUANU BEGUN

Big Job Will Now Be Carried on Steadily—Pavement Contracts to Let.

At last the much talked of Nuuanu road work has started, forty men being sent up the valley yesterday morning as the advance guard to start in the work which the residents of that section have been fighting for during the past few weeks.

Road Overseer Wilson stated yesterday afternoon that he had but a small crew at work during the day, as the conditions were not right for too much work. The rain of Saturday night and Sunday made things too damp up Nuuanu way to do much work yesterday, according to the road overseer, but he hopes by the latter part of the week to have from seventy-five to one hundred men on the job.

Money Available.

Mayor Fern signed the resolution appropriating $4,000 from the general fund, which passed third reading last Wednesday, as soon as it was finally approved by the supervisors, and thus the money was available so that work could commence yesterday. After the $4,000 already appropriated for the Nuuanu road is finished the board will appropriate other money for continuing, part of this further appropriation coming from the amounts now allowed the outside districts from the general fund.

Improve King Street.

Besides the work being started on Nuuanu, the repair gang is at work on King street, starting to tear up the ciled surface of King street at the corner of Kapiolani yesterday morning and working back toward Alapai. It is understood that the entire street in this block will be leveled and resurfaced, at present it being in an exceedingly rough condition.

Queen Street Paving.

This evening the most important matter along road lines to come up before the board of supervisors at the regular meeting will be the opening of bids for the paving of Queen street. It was voted several weeks ago to improve this thoroughfare between Fort and Alakea streets, and the money was voted from the permanent paving fund. Bids were advertised for to do the work and these tenders will be opened tonight in the board meeting.

It is unlikely that the contract will be awarded at the meeting, but the whole matter of the bids will undoubtedly be referred to the road committee for a report.

It is expected that there will be several bidders for the contract of laying the permanent pavement along the street which passes in front of the Seuhman Carriage Company garage, but how many will not be known until the meeting tonight.

Low to Hunt.

The latter part of the present week Supervisor Eben Low will shed the cares of a city father for several days. (Continued on Page Eight.)

BIRTHDAY OF A WELL-KNOWN CITIZEN

WILLIAM COOPER PARKER.
Born in Honolulu, September 19, 1862.

KAHN INSPECTS FORTIFICATIONS

Climbs to Top of Diamond Head and Has Exceedingly Lively Time.

"Wonderful, wonderful!" was the way in which Congressman Kahn told of what he had seen on his trip to Fort Ruger yesterday in company with Brigadier General Macomb and Major Timberlake who took him through all the intricacies of the tunnels in Diamond Head, and up the steep stairs and ladders at the top.

It was strenuous day for the California congressman and last evening he was in bed before the clock struck nine, getting a rest in preparation for the trip today to the fort, where he will witness the first firing of the mortars at the moving target outside the harbor.

Strenuous is no name for the day that the Californian spent yesterday, and by the time he had crawled out through the trap at the top of Diamond Head he was perfectly satisfied with what he had seen and done.

Makes Early Start.

Early in the morning the party started out, and first inspected the permanent quarters being constructed by Captain Edwards, constructing quarters master, every detail of these buildings being gone into.

Congressman Kahn was much interested in the new process of shooting concrete onto the sides of the buildings, and in that way constructing them in a rapid manner, these structures at Fort Ruger being the first ones constructed by this system for the army.

Captain Edwards has made a specialty of studying this class of work and believes he has found the quickest and most economical way in which to build quarters in the army posts of the country.

After viewing the work being done by Captain Edwards, Congressman Kahn was taken to Battery Harlow and here the men went through the motions of loading and firing the big mortars for a demonstration to the visitor.

He watched the work of the men and studied the manner in which the elevation and other position was telegraphed to the firing officer, with much interest.

Saw Battery First.

After the battery had been inspected the party went up into the crater and took a look at the big reservoir, which was recently completed, and which will hold enough water to supply the garrison for several weeks.

From this point the trip was continued to the other side of the crater and up through other tunnels and ladders, scaling the highest parts of the mountain to where the grand view of the harbor and ocean for miles beyond can be taken.

Out on Trail.

Out over the trail at the top the party went, and when Congressman Kahn had taken a last long look around the harbor, city and surrounding country he was willing to confess the magnitude of the work which had been undertaken and completed by Major E. Eveleth Winslow, corps of engineers, who had charge of all this work and nearly completed it before being ordered to Panama.

Today, again, Congressman Kahn will be the guest of the army and will view the firing of the mortars at the moving target 'way out on the waters of the Pacific off Diamond Head.

The first shot is scheduled to be fired at nine o'clock, four trial shots and ten actual ones being thrown from the mortars to the target.

After the ten shots are fired there will be no more practice until tomorrow, at which time the same number of shots will be again fired at the target at different distances.

SANITARY CENSUS NOW IN PROGRESS

Every House Will Be Visited Measured and Examined in Next Two Months.

Having cleaned up the worst portions of the city, particularly around the so-called "camps," and having remedied the most crying sanitary defects throughout the tenement district, the board of health has now launched its comprehensive campaign to abate nuisance under the 1911 law.

The sanitary survey, ordered and planned by the board of health, started yesterday under the direction of President Pratt, General Health Officer Doctor Shepherd, Chief Sanitary Inspector Charles and A. R. Keller, member of the board of health and sanitary commission. Carelessly stated to consist only of the draughting of detailed maps of the city, this work, which will occupy about two months, is primarily a census in the correct sense of the word and elaborate blanks and filing systems are ready at the board of health offices.

The last bits of work on the maps, all of which is but preliminary to the real census, is now being done and the actual census will commence either tomorrow or Thursday when the house-to-house visit from one end of the city to the other will be commenced. The board asks all citizens and residents to cooperate with the inspectors in furnishing the information demanded and save trouble all around. The data will be collected with or without trouble and for the greater expedition and good of the city, it is hoped that the former will be the case.

This is the first comprehensive work undertaken by the board of health under the presidency of Doctor Pratt, and had, indeed, been planned by him before the resignation of President Mott-Smith. The success attendant upon the preliminary work in the surveying, mapping, etc., has been cause for congratulation as the maps are the most complete of their kind ever made. Commissioner Keller is responsible for the success for he has been working faithfully and disinterestedly on it and has supervised the entire work at the College of Hawaii. The board has had little funds and men to spare to the work and the time used in it was consequently remarkably short.

The sanitary census, which now commences in earnest, consists of a detailed description of every building or open lot within the city proper. The blank prepared for the description of the buildings covers three pages of instructions to the inspectors. The data de (Continued on Page Eight.)

WARRANT FOR A LAWYER WHO HAS NOW DISAPPEARED

LOS ANGELES, September 19.—A warrant for the arrest of John R. Harrington, known here as a Socialist, one of the lawyers for the defense of the McNamara, charged with complicity in blowing up the Los Angeles Times, has been issued on charge of contempt.

Harrington was recently cited before the grand jury, but refused to answer the questions put to him before that body by District Attorney John D. Fredericks.

Since his examination before the grand jury Harrington has disappeared and the deputy sheriffs under the direction of Sheriff W. H. Hammel have been unable to locate him.

FOSTER CAN MAKE NO APPOINTMENTS

Captain Tripp has very much surprised yesterday when he saw published a statement to the effect that W. R. Foster, the newly appointed harbor master, to succeed Captain Tripp, "would look out for Tripp somewhere along the waterfront."

Not only was Captain Tripp surprised but so were the harbor commissioners, for they know of no appointments that the new harbor master may make. All appointments are made by the board and not by any individual. Furthermore, the commissioners say they do not know that any further changes are contemplated.

As to Captain Tripp, he states he has no intention of accepting any office under the new harbor master, and refers to the letter which he received from the harbor commissioners, dated September 1, in which they state that "there was no reason to criticize" his work in any way, but "they felt that a more aggressive man was needed for the position." To Captain Tripp that is final and indicates that he is not wanted for the position and on October 1 he expects to step out and stay out.

PREMIER STOLYPIN.
Who died from his wounds in Kiev yesterday.

KIEV, Russia, September 19.—An effort was made by the authorities to conceal the death of Premier Stolypin, who died in this city yesterday from the wounds inflicted by Dimitri Bogroff, the lawyer who shot him while attending a local theater with the czar last Thursday.

The attempt to conceal the death of the premier was due to a fear that news of his death would result in anti-Jewish riots. As it is many Jews are fleeing from their homes and wherever possible are crossing the borders to other countries.

Campaign of Terrorism.

The political police report that the revolutionists are preparing for an active campaign of terrorism and attribute the series of recent murders to the activity against the nihilists of Assistant Prosecutor Kurosh at St. Petersburg, a son of Commander Kurosh of the navy.

Can Defend Each Other.

One hundred and fifty lawyers have been arrested for alleged connection with the assassination of Stolypin. Bogroff, who shot the premier, is said to belong to a revolutionary group which aimed at the assassination of individual statesmen.
